In the Political Interests of the People,

The UNION AND DISPATCH, as hereto fore, will take the Constitution and laws for its guide; and in the discussion of all the new and intricate questions and issues arising out of the extraordinary condition in which the country i placed, it will adhere to the principles an teachings of the founders and expositors of our government and institutions. It will endeavor to guard with vigilance and defend with unwang earnestness and faith the rights and intests of all the States, and the essential princi les which constitute the basis of the Republic. We shall oppose all invasions of these, and aphold, to the utmost of our ability, the union of the States under them. Feeling that they re endangered by the revolutionary schemes of Radical politicians who now hold the Legisative power of the Government, we shall abate othing of our past opposition to their meaore With these views, which are no less than account convictions, we cannot and will no hesitate to defend the unfortunate South the sepersions and impositions heapen upo to people, and urge that Justice and Right shall meted out to them.

Our Manufacturing and Domestle Interets.

We shall constantly admonish the Southern people to be self-reliant, and shall do what we may be able to induce the establishment manufactories in our midst for our home products. To this end we will pay special attention to the cour and statistics of manufacturing and exert surselves to encourage the diversification of Southern industries and the development of Houthern remurces.

Our Financial and Commercial Column.

Every department of business has an imme diate interest in the markets of the country, and in its financial fluctuations and condition. The man who falls to keep himself properly advised as to the rise and fall of the markets, as controlled by the laws of demand and supply. and the relative condition of the currency, is exposed to constant loss, and must necessarily fall behind his more intelligent and enterprising neighbors. In order to make our paper valuable as well as interesting, we shall continue to make this a special PEATURE. Our Daily Market Reports, domestic and foreign, by telegraph, and our City Reports, gotten up at heavy expense, have challenged the commendation of our best businessmen; while our current Finan cial Reports from all the leading money centre of the country are fuller than have ever published by any other journal in Tennessee

Jpon the Subject of Agriculture And kindred topics, we shall also give an extensive variety of valuable and interesting matter-the best adapted to the farming classes of our State, which will, in a great measure, supply the place of a family agricultural paper.

For the Family Circle,

And for the special pleasure and profit of the young, each week we will give a general literary and religious miscellany. Nothing shall find its way into our columns unfit for the perusal the mothers and daughters of the land. Deprecating the demoralizing sensationalism of many contemporary journals, we shall eschow that character; striving to give the reader substantial matter, preferring to be neeful rather than

PERRIBLE FIRE AT NATCHEZ-GREAT LOSS OF PROPERTY.

From the Natchez Courier, March 30. One of the most disastrous fires that ha occurred in Natchez in many years broke out about half past one o'clock on Friday right last, in the extensive drygoods estab ishment of Messrs, A. & W. C. Wheelock on Commerce street, near Cotton square. In a very few minutes the entire building slept in the second story, being barely able to escape through the fire and smoke. The fire immediately spread to the Courie office building on the north, and the Newcomb buildings on the south; and in the rear to the large grocery store of the Mesers, Wheelock, and to the brick building on the swept the entire square to Union street, excepting only the buildings fronting on Main street—including the Masonic Hall which was saved with great difficulty—and the residence of Mrs. Whitcomb, on Union street. The Marsh House, on Commerce street, stopped the flames in that direction, although considerably injured by water and falling walls.

The following is a list of property de stroyed on Commerce street: A. & W. C. Wheelock; loss $44,000; in sured for $30,000. Courier office-total loss estimated at

THE PROSTS AND THE PRUIT

From the Cincinnati Gazette, April 8. The clear moonlight of Saturday and anday nights, that was so much admired by those whose business or pleasure called them into the streets, was attended by such an amount of radiation of heat as to reduce the temperature to a very unusually was in flames, Mr. W. C. Wheelock, who low point for this season of the year. Some thermometers indicated twenty degrees, water was frozen, the ground was congealed for a thickness of more than an inch, and all tender vegetation suffered exceedingly.

Fortunately for us, the backwardness of the season has kept most of our fruit blos-Wheelock, and to the brick building on the alley; thence, sweeping across the alley, it swept the entire square to Union street, extoward the topmost buds, and only a few of the most precocious blossoms had as yet expanded to the deluded zephyrs. Of course, the delicate petals were blasted, and with them the more tender organs of infloresence that were exposed to such a low temperature, and then suddenly thawed out by the glorious sunshine

Sunday and Monday mornings. It is a subject of great rejoicing among our fruit men, and of congratulation with all lovers of the delicious gifts of Pomona, that only a few varieties have suffered from the frost. These are the earliest blossoming kinds of plums, cherries and peaches. The main crop of all these fruits is still apparently safe, and the blossoms will, in due time, expand and fructify for an abundant harvest. The apricots have all perished, and some of the most forward pear buds, especially those in exposed places, are seriously injured.

The apples, most of the cherries, a good share of the peaches and pears, the quinces, and all of the small fruits, give promise of a bountiful product, and the buds of the grape vine are not sufficiently advanced to suffer harm, so that we may yet anticipate a bounteons harvest of these good things, which are more than luxuries, being real necessities in our civilization.

A PIG in Zanesville, Ohio, took a flying leap, the other evening, at which human gymnasts would be apt to balk. He had walked up a stairway in pursuit of provender, and, being cornered by a number of people in the house, plunged through a third story dormer-window, slipped down the sloping roof to the eaves, and then jumped or fell to the ground, some twenty-five feet. With a grunt of lively dissatisfaction at the too sudden stop in his descent, he picked himself up and scampered off, without waiting for the applause of the spectators.

JOHN JONES and his son were setting a partridge trap in the woods, in Comberland county, Va., a few days ago, his son having a chicken in his arms, when Robert Meadow, who was hunting turkeys, saw the chicken's head, and not seeing Jones and Main, was slightly injured. Mr. his son, shot the chicken and killed it in cornet on the dancing waves; the deep blue the boy's arms. Jones and his son were wounded but very slightly.

A TERRIBLE CASUALTY.

The Diamond Coel Mine Accident— Seventeen Men Fall 185 Feet—Twelve Instantly Killed. The Scranton Republican publishes the particulars of the shocking accident which occurred on Tuesday morning (March 31st) at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company's Diamond Mines, Hyde Park, The accident occurred at 05 o'clock in the morning, as the first 'carriage" load of miners was on the point of descending into the "F" shaft leading to the "E" and "F" veins. On the carriage, which weighs from 3500 to 4000 pounds, fifteen men and two boys had placed themselves. The signal was given to the engineer to put his machinery in motion to raise the carriage, which is generally raised about a foot, when it settles back upon what are called "fans" which are thrown across the opening to support the carriage. At this time the driving boss, Mr. Patrick ("Patsey") Barrett, said to a son of Mr. Rees T. Evans, the boss miner, "Get off, I want to go down this time." As he thus spoke, the boy jumped off, and Mr. Barrett removed the lever which throws back the "lans," and jumped on.
As he did so the carriage started with the rapidity of lightning, falling to the bottom of the shaft—a distance of 185 feet. The sudden start was caused by the breaking of a link eight inches long, of the best of Ulster iron, put in less than three weeks since. There were seven smaller links above this before the wire rope commenced. The broken link was picked up at the bottom of the shaft, and was found to be straightened completely, with the exception of a slight turn at each end. This straightening out showed the tenacity of the iron, as only a slight crack was made in it on the inside of the broken end. The other and shows the reason the link broke to have end shows the reason the link broke to have been the imperfect welding of the iron. The link was made of three-quarter inch iron, and that less than half way round the rod was perfectly welded. That portion is purely white, and all the rest is blackened, showing that for some reason the weld did not take. When together the surface ari not take. When together the surface evidently seemed perfectly joined at the lap. The wonder is that it held together so long while drawing up tons of weight every day It is said by experts that sometimes welds do not take on account of unusually sulphurous coal being used in welding, and possibly it was the case with the weld in question. Bituminous coal is considered better for such operations. One of the employes who stood by at the time of the accident, says that just after the carriage was raised, and

THE TERRORS OF VESUVIUS.

A Woman's Experience on the Burn ing Mountain. An adventurous lady who has ascended Vesuvius, and braved the dangers of an approach to the burning crater, writes the following sketch of her experience to the Philadelphia Bulletin:

"A half an hour of fatiguing journey over a desert more dreary and terrible than imagination can possibly picture, with Pompeii, Hercalaneum, Torre del Greece, and dozens of buried and ruined cities and villages painfully oppressing our sense of the supremacy of man's ingenuity over natural instinct, and inspiring a dread of the awful fiery monster we were so recklessly approaching, and not in the least modified by the fact that seventy-five thousand souls were actually clinging to their old homes on the mountain side, down which rivers of fire rolled and surged, upheaved and turned in great blocks of crimson paste, as if the caldron of hell were boiling over and seeking victims beyond

The following certificate speaks for itself:
Having had the pleasure of repeatedly playing the "Geo. Steck & Co." Plano, we do unhestiatingly pronounce it among the most perfect instruments of its kind. Especially is it remarkable for its evenness of lone, which, although wonderfully powerful, is exceedingly rich and smooth. The promptness with which its dampers operate, I have never seen equalled.
